TRAINING & CONSULTANCY SOLUTIONS THAT PRODUCE RESULTS

India Skills Report 2014, a joint initiative by Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), PeopleStrong and Wheebox says that with manpower of 1.2437 billion, it is ironic that we suffer from dearth of talent as only 10% of MBA graduates of the country are employable. One can imagine the enormity of the challenge we will face, when in year 2026, 64.8% of India's population would be in the working age group of 15-64 years. Solving this problem requires true-blue participation from all actors of the Talent Supply Chain: the Academia, the Industry and the Government.

Practicing HR managers in global corporate houses also feel the need to elate and enhance the management skills of Middle to Senior Managers. Competency to lead the work force and resources at its maximum efficiency to produce excellent results is the most important asset for MNCs these days.
